

What is...?

Channergy Omni Channel Manager

Channergy began over 20 years ago as a full backoffice system. It was designed for mail order businesses and offered order entry, order import, inventory management, customer relations, purchasing and receiving, emailing, reports etc. It is a big system and has kept pace with the times.

In 2009 Channergy added a multi channel manager which communicates with Amazon, ebay, Rakuten, Sears, Magento, Shopify, Big Commerce, Volusion and many other ecommerce solutions. It downloads orders, uploads product changes and in several uploads full listings, and uploads shipping confirmations.

Channergy works with third party programs including Quickbooks and other accounting packages, shipping software like UPS Worldship, FedEx Ship Manager, Endicia Pro, Stamps.com and many other systems like credit card processors.

Channergy also includes a full point of sale system that integrates with your channels and manages inventory across all of them.

Channergy is unique. It is a single solution that includes a full backoffice, a multi channel manager, retail POS, support for shipping, drop shipping, accounting and credit card processing and full integration between all these typically disparate systems.

You can run Channergy locally or we can host it in the cloud for you. Channergy is highly customizable, includes an open SQL compliant database, comes with cool tools like a report writer, script editing tool, html interface and more. No other system is as comprehensive and flexible as Channergy.
